D                      A                      Bm                      G

Through all of the highways, the byways I ve travelled

G                      D                      Bm                      A

Through all of the sidestreets and alleys of sin

D                      A                      Bm                      G

Through all that s been heard nothing sinks quite as low

G                      D                      Bm                      A

As the prominent statements of prominent men

D                      A                      Bm                      G

Prominent men tell prominent stories

G                      D                      Bm                      A

Prominent men tell prominent lies

D                      A                      Bm                      G

Prominent men kiss the ass of dame fortune

G                      D                      Bm                      D

Prominent men will tear out your eyes
