Acordesweb.com

Row Him Home The Wailin' Jennys

As far as I know, these are the ONLY Row Him Home chords on the Internet, because

I can t find a single other one anywhere. I don t know why, cuz it s a GREAT song.

I m not sure if this is completely right, but it s definitely playable. The real chords are F, C, Bb, and C, but Bb is a doozy so I thought I d make it easier. We guitarists are lazy folk. Let me know if you find any mistakes or things that could be changed. (Email me at kids.think.pink@gmail.com if you have any changes that you think should be made, or even any suggestions.) Enjoy! :) - Mal

Capo 3

Chords used: D, A, G, Bm

Verse 1:

) A

Across that river

3 2

Thru the orange squares of light

D A

Past the streetlamps

G A

Like a beacon in the rain

D A

You ve stopped in all this motion

G A

You re heavy with news too sudden

D A G A

You re breathing through this undertow of pain

Bm

And all your friends will gather soon and you ll

3 A

Surface then to bring them through, you ll say,

D A G D

It s better this way, and at least we knew

Bm A

But this practice in leaving,

G A

All these small moves to grieving,

a

Does it ever really promise what s deserved?

Chorus:

D A

Cuz you wanna take him in your arms And carry to the river D Find the boy he once was D And row him home BmYou want a majesty restored Find the place where love was born G And let him go G Asus A And let him go Let him go D, A, G, A D, A, G, A Verse 2 (same as verse 1): Many Sundays pass since the day of his first leaving And you ve stopped asking for the role to be reversed With the grace that follows those who know what love is You held his hand and walked towards this strange rebirth And as the friends gather round to bear witness You struggle with the fight to find some peace, to make it worth it Chorus: Α Cuz you wanna take him in your arms G And carry to the river D Find the boy he once was G D And row him home \mathbf{Bm} You want a majesty restored BmFind the place where love was born G And let him go Asus And let him gooooo (hoooooome) D You wanna take him in your arms G Α

And carry to the river

D A

Find the boy he once was

And row him home

Bm

You want a majesty restored

Bm A G Asus

Find the place where lo-ooooove....

Asus A D A G A

Hooooooooome....yeah

D, A, G, A

D, A G, A

Oooh hooooo

D A G D

Yeah