Imagine a man
Eb/B	Ebm/B
Not a child of any revolt
Bb	Bb7sus2	Eb6/B	Ebm6/B
But a plain man tied up in life

Imagine the sand
Eb/B	Ebm/B
Running out as he struts
Bb	Bb7sus2	Eb6/B	Ebm6/B
Parading and fading, ignoring his wife

Imagine a road
So long looking backwards
You can t see where it really began

Imagine a load
So large and so smooth
That against it a man is an ant

Imagine events
That occur everyday
Like a shooting or raping or a simple act of deceit

Imagine a fence
Around you as high as prudential
Cast in shadows, you can t see your feet

Imagine a girl
With long flowing hair
And the body of chalky perfection and truth

Imagine a past
That you wish you had lived
Full of heroes and villains and fools

{repeat Chorus}

And you will see the end

You will see the end, oh yeah

Imagine a man
Not a child of any revolt
But a man of today feeling new

Imagine a soul
So old it is broken
And you know your invention is you

{repeat Chorus}

And you will see the end

You will see the end

You will see the end

You will see the end, oh yeah
