                  - A/C# * may or not be played in verses.
                  - Also, these chords are for GUITARS ONLY; The BASS FOLLOW A DIFFERENT HARMONY
                  throughout the song thus making the chords a bit confusing.

[Verse 1]
  F#m            A/C# *  E       D
Remember when I found a broken branch
                        A       E
And shoved it through your bicycle spokes
    F#m    A/C# *         E         D
And how remorse quickly took its stand
          A                       E
When you hit the deck and broke your nose

[Pre-chorus]
D                    A/C#    Bm
You were always the emo     type
D                            A/C#    Bm
Strained hair matched to a bitter tone
     D                            A/C#    Bm
Well I donâ€™t care much for fashion or socia -lites
    D                       E  A/C#
The nihilists always get my vote

[Refrain]
D
All she ever wanted was a little direction
A                         B
All she ever needed was a friend
D
All she ever made were the worst impressions
A                 B
All she ever did was offend
D
Youâ€™re the only one to fail my sex drive
D
Will you or wonâ€™t you, Valentine?

[Chorus]

       F#m D5   A/C#  E
Valentine
       F#m D5   A/C#  E
Valentine

[Verse 2]
F#m                  A/C#  *   E     D
Remember when you laid me on my back
       A                          E
And performed to me my favourite song
    F#m            A/C#  *  E  D
And how I shivered upon its climax
           A                                    E        A
And those lips still plague my thoughts ten years on

[Pre-chorus]

You were always the emo    type
D                              A/C#    Bm
Strained hair matched to a bitter tone
     D                             A/C#    Bm
Well I donâ€™t care much for fashion or socia -lites
    D                        E  A/C#
The nihilists always get my vote

[Refrain]
D
All she ever wanted was a little direction
A                         B
All she ever needed was a friend

All she ever made were the worst impressions
A                    B
All she ever did was offend

Youâ€™re the only one to fail my sex drive
D
Will you or wonâ€™t you, Valentine?

       A          D
Valentine, Valentine
       A          D
Valentine, Valentine
        A              D
Valentine, Valentine
    F#m   Bm        D
Valentine,  Valentine

[Interlude]
A  D
F#m   Bm  D

[Coda]
D
All she ever wanted was a little direction
A   B
Far away from this broken sea
D
And all I ever needed was some domination
A   B
From a girl with low self esteem
D
I think we share the same blood type
D   A
Will you or won't you, Valentine?
