The xx

[Verse 1]
```
Bm                              A
After all the time, after you
                                  E
Had you seen me with someone new?

Hanging so high for your return
                            Bm
But the stillness is a burn
                          A
Had I seen it in your eyes
                                E
There d have been no try after try

Your leaving had no goodbye
                              Bm
Had I just seen one in your eyes
```

[Chorus]
A - E
```
                  Bm
I can t give it up
                    A
To someone else s touch
                        E
Because I care too much
                  Bm
I can t give it up
                    A
To someone else s touch
                        E
Because I care too much
Care too much
Care too much
```
