I think it's better to play it with power chords, even you play it acoustically
(as Jared often does):

[Verse 1]

      Am          C
Your defenses were on high
      Am          C      D
Your walls built deep inside
      Am          C
Yeah I m a selfish bastard
      G          Em
But at least I m not alone
      Am          C
My intentions never change
      Am          C      D
What I want still stays the same
      Am          C
And I know what I should do
      G          Em
it s time to set myself on fire

[Chorus]

      C
Was it a dream?
      D
Was it a dream?
      Am          Em
Is this the only evidence that proves it
      C          D
A photograph of you and I

[Verse 2]

      Am          C
Your reflection I ve erased
      Am          C      D
Like a thousand burned out yesterdays
      Am          C          G
Believe me when I say goodbye forever

Em

Is for good

[Chorus]

C

Was it a dream?

D

Am

Em
