

New Years Resolution Lies

Thomas Sanders

Thomas: Well, this year it could be different... right? Right?

C

I ll cut out carbs to lose some weight

[Logan]: That s a lie.

G

[Thomas]: I won t go to bed so late.

[Patton]: LIE!

F

[Thomas]: I won t be so shy to date.

[Logan]: LIE

G

[Thomas]: I won t do so much riffing

[Roman]: Lieeeeeee...

C

[Thomas]: I ll go to the gym and get real strong.

[Patton]: Lie!

G

[Thomas]: All my work, I won t prolong.

[Logan]: Hah! Lie.

F

[Thomas]: I ll stick to goals the whole year long

[Patton]: ANOTHER LIE!

G

[Thomas]: I won t sing so many Disney songs.

[Roman]: You re kidding, right?

Am

C

F

G

[Virgil]: Let s face the facts and come to terms, it s time to realize

Am

C

G

These goals are only merely hope we quickly leave behind

C

G

F

They re lies, lies, lies, lies, lieeeeeees!~

Virgil: Give it up. Resolutions are nothing more than empty promises to yourself.

Shouldn t even try.

Thomas: Look- Okay, maybe thinking big like that is not the way to go, but resolutions don t have to be big. They can be reasonable.

C

[Thomas]: I could cook a meal or four.

[Patton]: True

G

[Thomas]: Keep my clothes neater in my drawer.

[Roman]: TRUE.

Am

[Thomas]: Improve my credit score.

[Logan]: >>SO TRUE
