BLOOD FLOWER - Tilly & The Wall

The chorus repeats multiple times at the end.
The progression doesn't change so I didn't bother copying
and pasting the same words over and over. Sorry.

Tuning:

Am C F E
I buried my blood years ago to encourage the vine
Am C F E
I waited for something to grow and flourish with time
Am C F E
I counted each hopeful raindrop as it fell to its death
Am C F E
I dusted the mournful frost and warmed it up with my breath

Am C
You'd better watch where you're walking
F E
There might be somebody's blood flower growing
Am C
You'd better watch what you're doing
F E
Don't go fucking around in the garden

Am G
You'd better watch where you're walking
F E
You'd better watch what you're doing
Am G
You'd better watch where you're walking
F E
You'd better watch what you're doing

Am C F E
On the night of the hunter's moon you might notice a quiet dread
Am C F E
Are your eyes playing tricks on you? Yeah, maybe it's in your head
Am C F E
Every day a little more unsettled, you are starting to understand
Am C F E
You're sleeping with the lights on, with no one to hold your hand

Am G
You d better watch where you re walking

F E
You d better watch what you re doing

Am G
You d better watch where you re walking

F E
You d better watch what you re doing

Am G
You d better watch where you re walking, where you re walking

F E
You d better watch what you re doing

(Just keyboards here)

Am C
You d better watch where you re walking

F E
There might be somebody s blood flower growing

(Everything kicks back in)

Am G
You d better watch what you re doing

F E
Don t go fucking around in the garden

Am G
You d better watch where you re walking

F E
There might be somebody s blood flower growing

Am G
You d better watch what you re doing

F E
Don t go fucking around in the garden

Am G
You d better watch where you re walking

F E
There might be somebody s blood flower growing
