The Red Rose
Timeless Miracle

(Capo in II Fret)

[Verse 1]
Am            Em          F        G         Am
I keep your picture by my side when I lie awake at night
      Em        F          G
Only memories remain of your now
Am            Em          F        G         Am
The smell of roses cause me pain but I keep them anyway
        Em          F          G
To remind me of the time we had we shared

[Chorus:]
C        G  Am          F        G      Am
If I could fly away I would fly on wings of gold
F          G                                            C
Never to return (live long) live well we ll see each other on the other side
C        G      Am          F        G  C
If I could see you again I would give just anything
     F          G
But would it be enough?
C        G      Am          Em          C
Someone is crying when someone s dying all alone
        G                    Am        F  G
And you know that it s a crime to fail
C        G      Am          Em              F
Someone is dying and leave me crying in the dark
        Dm                  G
When night have come to stay

[Verse 2]
Am            Em              F              G              Am
I dream of fields of endless green where you re running with the wind
   Em      F          G
So far away from misery
Am        Em              F        G              Am
I take a step forwards the light and I try to touch your face
        Em          F          G
In my dream you slip away and I awake

[Repeat chorus]

[Bridge]
Am                          F

Wake up in a sweat I don t know where I am
        G                              C
I m blinded by the absence of light
            Dm
There s someone in my room moving in the dark
                                     C
Seems strange but I know that its you
        Dm
You call me without sound touch me without form
You tell me every thing is alright now
        Am                          F
The seconds turns to minutes the minute s turns to hours
        G                          C
I m bathing in the warmth of your love
Dm
Hoped that you would stay forever and a day
                               C
But the afterlife await your return
Dm
Dragging you from me I wonder is it real
                               G
A final chance to say goodbye

[chorus2]
C
If I could...
D           A   Bm          G       A       D
If I could fly away I would fly on wings of gold
G           A
Never to return(live long)live well
A                                   D
we ll see each other on the other side
D           A   Bm          G         A   D
If I could see you again I would give just anything
      G           A
But would it be enough?
D           A   Bm              F#m         G
Someone is crying when someone s dying all alone
          A                   Bm      G A
And you know that it s a crime to fail
D           A   Bm              F#m         G
Someone is dying and leave me crying in the dark
        Em                      A
When night have come to stay

[Outtro]
D               A   Bm
If I could fly away
            G A D
If i could fly
 G           A
Never to return

D              A        Bm                    F#m           G
Someone is crying when someone s dying all alone
        Em                        A
When night have come to stay

ENJOY IT !!!
