In your light girl, in your light
        F          C
I could turn into a window sill,
   F          C
a daffodil or caterpillar
        F         C
In your light

In your room girl, in your room
In your room girl, in your room
I could face all of my memories, and tell them not to bother me
In your room

        Bm   F
I could be anything
        Bm          F          C
I could be almost anything

In your town girl, in your town
In your town girl, in your town
When your neighborhood says, "Who are you?"
I tell them "I ain t no stranger I ain t just passin through"
In your town

I walk your lane girl, I walk your lane
I walk your lane girl, I walk your lane
With a handful of dandelions, and a belly full of apple wine
On your lane

In your arms girl, in your arms
In your arms girl, in your arms
I could change my name to harmony, then change it back to misery
In your arms

And in your life girl, in your life
In your life girl, in your life
I could be the one you love the best
Forsake your past and love me for the rest of your life

I could be anything
I could be almost anything
