

An Open Ending

Tina Dico

I play ukulele and I m not very good at this, but this song is really simple and very beautiful, so I hope this is right:

Bb F Bb Eb (x2)

Bb F Bb
Tell mama you ll be okay

Eb
Tell her stay calm

Bb F Bb
Tell daddy it s much too late

Eb
To twist your arm

Eb Bb F
It s time to go and find something that s yours

Eb
That no one can steal away

Eb Bb F
Yeah, it s time to open the doors

Eb
To your secret place

Eb F
There s no answer as big as the question

Bb F
There s no victory as big as the lesson

Eb F Bb F
You go on and you see where your detours will take you to

Eb F
There s no power like understanding

Bb F
There s no beginning like an open ending

Eb F Bb F
You hold on, you don t stop to believe, If you follow through

Eb F
You will learn what is good for you

Bb F
Someday soon

Eb F
You will know what is best for you

Bb F Bb Eb

Bb F Bb
Tell mama, it ll be alright
Eb
Tell her have faith

Eb Bb F
It s time to go and find something that ll last
Eb
And no one can lose or break
Eb Bb F
It s time to own up to the task
Eb
And go make your own mistakes

Eb F
There s no answer as big as the question
Bb F
There s no victory as big as the lesson
Eb F Bb F
You go on and you see where your detours will take you to
Eb F
There s no power like understanding
Bb F
There s no beginning like an open ending
Eb F Bb F
You hold on, you don t stop to believe, If you follow through
Eb F
You will learn what is good for you
Bb F
Someday soon
Eb F
You will know what is best for you

Bb Eb (x4)
