

La La La

TinPan Orange

a really beautiful song. 3/4 timing.

C

I must say, I must say,

G

That I loved you the most.

And when you went away,

C

I remembered your ghost.

I keep, I keep,

G

It right in my heart.

Cause everybody knows,

C

That ghosts like the dark.

E

Am

The TV is on, and the fan swings around,

E

Am

The insects are singing, cause the sun s going down.

E

Am

The heat is like love, and the breeze is like kisses,

D

G

I boil two eggs and it s him that I m missing.

C

I think of you, think of you,

G

And I feel so alive.

Like berries, like a market,

Like a buzzing beehive.

I won t show it, I won t show it,

Cause a fool I will seem.

So I ll sit on my hands,

And swim in my dreams.

C

G

E

Am

I pour another glass, and I wait for the rain,

E

Am

I drink up the milk and start counting again.

E

Am

Each day is closer to the humming monsoon,

D

G

It surely returns like the flowers that bloom.

C

In a way, in a way,

G

{continue}

In an old-fashioned way,
I'd rather die waiting,
Than forget his name.
When he sings, when he sings,
On the afternoon porch.
The song like shelter
And dark like a torch

C G

The TV is on, and the fan swings around,
The insects are singing, cause the sun's going down.
The heat is like love, and the breeze is like kisses,
I boil two eggs and it's him that I'm missing.

C G

La la la, la la la,
