

Nature Of The Experiment
Tokyo Police Club

This seems to be a really elusive song online but it s one of my favourites so I thought give it a go. Pretty easy strumming and sounds really good if you are a lazy player.

go counting beats for acoustic versions of Tokyo Police Club.

Standard Tuning

Chords used:

C/G - 332010

G - 320003 or 320010 (These are good for Em - 022000 or 022010 more mellow versions)

Am - 002210

Intro: C/G x4

C/G

We ve got our tracks covered

Thanks to your older brother

G

It s not the moonlight that sets me off

Em Am

It s not the money that makes me scoff

C/G

It s my impeccable disorder

Where I keep on falling for her

G

It s not the way my mother talks

Em Am

It s not the people that she mocks

Em G

It s the nature of the experiment

Am

It s the patterns of my temperament

Em G

It s the nature of the experiment

Am

They re taking me in increments

We re halfway up the bracket

The rain comes through my jacket

It s not the stones inside my shoes

It s not the risk of what s to lose

It s an ancient Russian proverb
But I doubt it s ones that you ve heard
It s not the cracks beneath the floor
It s not the fact that it s a chore

It s the nature of the experiment
It s the patterns of my temperament
It s the nature of the experiment
They re taking me in increments

Comments / Questions / Edits? d.flynn.10@gmail.com