

Harsh Realm
Tom Gabel

Tom plays this song without a capo, but I didn't take the time to look at the EXACT he's playing, so here's this version.

I actually found two ways to play it (the 2nd version is on the bottom).

They both sound just about exactly like it.

PS: Check out his new music

It's amazing.

<http://www.myspace.com/tomgabelmusic>

Capo on the 5th Fret:

C G Am F
C G F

C G Am
I'm waking up in night terrors

F
Can't stop the future

C
Keeps pushing me ahead

G Am F
I feel the weight of the world crushing down on me

C G F
And time seems somewhere near

C G F
Decisions seem so absolute

G F
Yeah, it's a harsh realm

G F
Yeah, it's a harsh realm

C G Am F
Don't abandon me

C G Am F
Don't abandon me

C G Am
There's a million things to get done today

F
I'm making lists, I'm scheduling appointments

C G
I give a little bit of time to everyone

Am F C
 What do you say for yourself?
 G F C
 How much money do you need
 G F
 to give yourself a sense of security?

G F
 Yeah, it s a harsh realm

G F
 Yeah, it s a harsh realm

C G Am F
 Don t abandon me

C G Am F
 Don t abandon me

G F
 Yeah, it s a harsh realm

G F
 Yeah, it s a harsh realm

G F
 Yeah, it s a harsh realm

C G Am F
 Don t abandon me

C G Am F
 Don t abandon me

C G Am F
 C G F

The other way I found to play it was this:

F C Dm Bb
 F C Bb

CH:

C Bb
