I Who Have Nothing Tom Jones

I (who have nothing) as sung by the mighty Tom Jones written by Donida/Leiber/Stoller

```
[Am] [G]
[Am]I, I who have [G]nothing,
[Am]I, I who have [G]no-one,
A[C]dore you, and want you [E]so,
But I m just a [Am]no-one with nothing to [G]give you my darling but [F]oh,
I [Am]love you [Am] [G]
[Am]He, he buys you [G]diamonds,
[Am]Bright, sparkling [G]diamonds
But [C]believe me, dear, when I [E]say
That he can give [\mathbf{Am}]you the world but [\mathbf{G}]he ll never love you the [\mathbf{F}]way
I [Am]love you
He ll [G]take you any place he wants
[F]To fancy clubs and restaurants
[G]I can only watch you with
[F] My nose pressed up against the window [E]pane[F][E]
[Am]I, I who have [G]nothing
[Am]I, I who have [G]no-one
Must [C] watch you go dancing [E] by Wrapped in the [\mathbf{Am}]arms of somebody [\mathbf{G}]else when darling it s [\mathbf{F}]I
Who [Am]loves you, I [F]love you
I [Dm]love you
[E]I love [Am]you
