

Blinding Summer Light

C

I wanna go outside and write your name

G

F

In sunlight on the backs of both my eyes

C

I hope you re not surprised

C

When I use my scarred retinas to

C

stare your scrawled and cursive name

C

onto the dusty surfaces of

G

F

things I used to love before you

C

It s hard but what can I do

C

And then I count the days before

C

Allowing both my retinas to heal

C

G

So I can see your face in perfect clarity

F

Oh I will see

C

Your face in front of me

Em

C

And then behind my eyelids I m with you

Em

C

Imagining the things we re gonna do

Em

F

C

In phosphorescent brown and black and blue

Em

C

In fine and blinding summer light with you

I didn t even want to know your name

Until the sunlight sparkled in your eyes

It took me by surprise

And suddenly the paradigm

Of thinking I was fine
Was shifted into realising that I needed you all of the time

And when I close my eyelids I m with you
Imagining the things we re gonna do
In phosphorescent brown and black and blue
In fine and blinding summer light with you
