

Butterflies

Tone Damli Aaberge

This is Norwegian Tone Damli Aaberge's contribution for the Eurovision Song Contest 2009. I like this song but I'm not 100% sure about the lyrics and the chords are just something I added quickly, I haven't even had time to try them out yet (though I believe they can't be too far from sounding alright). Give me a comment and I'll change it right away. Enjoy intro:

C-G-C-G

versel:

```
      C                      G
Time to wake up, donâ€™t know what to wear,
      C                      G
do my make-up, then I brush my hair.
      C                      G
Either foreseen as I pin my nails(?)
      Am          Em
And suddenly my heart starts beating
      C                      G
I think I need some air
```

verse2:

```
      C                      G
Little frightening as the lights go down
      C                      G
Almost show-time, curtains opening now
      C                      G
Spotlight hits you, I lose all my lines
      Am          Em
And once again my heart starts beating
      C          F          G
I think I need some air to start breathing
```

chorus:

```
      F                      G
Iâ€™m getting butterflies, Iâ€™m floating on a dream
      F                      G
Now my world starts spinning my heart pounds
      F                      G
So happy that I could cry when I look in your eyes
      F
â€™cause you keep giving me..
      (F)          G

..keep giving me butterflies
