Toni Braxton

Em C
I gave you the benefit of the doubt
G
Til you showed me what you were about
D
Your true colors came out

Em C
And your words couldn't hide the sin
G
Cause the truth about where you been
D
Is in a fragrance I can't recognize

Em
Just standing there, scratching your head
C
Bloodshot eyes, drunk with regret
G D
Hanging yourself ten feet over the edge

Em C
I'm done with this, feeling like an idiot
G
Loving you, I'm over it
D
I just don't love you, don't love you no more

Em C
You, you are so yesterday
G
Never thought you'd lose my love this way
D
Now you come begging me to stay

Em C
See you, you are so yesterday
G
I won't let you rain on my parade
D
I don't wanna hear a thing you say
Em
You're so yesterday

C
Funny now how I'm gone

The little light in your head came on

D

?Now you realize it's all your fault, ooo, ooo

Em

C

Don't you wish you had a time machine?

F?

That way you could change history

C?

That's the only way that you could be with me

Em

Just standing there, scratching your head

C

Bloodshot eyes, drunk with regret

D

Hanging yourself ten feet over the edge

G

It started with a little kiss

D

But we can't even be friends

No, no, now I never wanna see you

D

Never wanna feel you, never wanna hear you

C

I don't love you, don't need you
