Dark Corner

Tony Sly - Dark Corner
Wrote this when I was 39
Still in my head but out of mind
But there is something inside I cant resolve
A portrait of a perfect life
Two lovely kids, a loving wife
 F#
                                  Bb
A servant to the things I cant control
                        F#
In this heart there is a dark corner
With a space for everyone
                            F#
I give it all and try until my river is dry
But i feel like less when everyone moves on
I wonder if Ive spent my days
Trapped in an adolescent cage
                                 Вb
Just pondering the future of us all?
Stated opinion, given back
The best that I can, stay on track
   F#
For most of it I cant remember
Bb
Where we took the fall?
                         F#
In this heart there is a dark corner
                       Bbm
With a space for everyone
                            F#
I give it all and try until my river is dry
But I feel like less when everyone moves on
Yes I feel like less when everyone moves on
