                C#
our pockets are empty
          G#
the signal is lost
        F#
too many low times
          C#
at such a high cost

          C#
suddenly walking
   G#
no destination plan
    F#
the will so hard to hold
            C# slips out of our hands

              Bbm
to much conversation
                G#
we re losing our voice
         F# it s justification
              C#
for lack of a choice

              Bbm
the penniless preacher
                G#
the king of the hill
          F#
expired prescription
                  A
that we couldn t fill

              C#
the trigger is so soft
         G#

G# miscalculation

a fruitless ambition
```
    G#

it would appear
```
  F#
```
i know a place that sells pride
```
      C#
```
not far from here

```
            Bbm
```
an aborted mission

awards for submission

so nicely engraved

so perfect the world is

without any view

the smallest of hope is the biggest excuse

suddenly a change
