Toaster In The Bathtub
Tony Sly

On a bit of a Tony Sly kick lately so I thought I would figure out a few tunes.

Toaster in the Bathtub

Tuning is DGCFAD - need to drop a whole step - sounds the most correct to me.

Intro:
G, D, C x2

```
         G
You re a flame and i m a candle
      D                 C
I m a wick and you re a breeze
      G
I m a rock and you re paper
        C               D
And i m scissors if you please

         Em
You see i can t find myself these days
C
I don t know where to look
         G               D               G
Turn the page, hit the lights, close the book

         G
You re a building, i m on fire
         D               C
You re the truth and i m a lie
      G
I m a toaster in the bathtub
        C               D
You re a beacon in the night

    Em
But we suffer from the same disease
C
And play each other s games
        G           D
You re a day in the park
        G
I m the rain
```

```
                    C              G
So, get your get head off the ground
            Em      D       G
And let your soul be found, yeah

G
I m a reason on a long list
D                       C
You re an angel and a saint
        G
I m the tears in your lap
        C                   D
And the time that you will waste

Em
I hope that we can stitch it
    C
If we haven t broke the seams
        G               D
Life is short, is this all
          G
You have dreamed?

                    C              G
So, get your get head off the ground
            Em      D
And let your soul be found,
                    C              G
So, get your get head off the ground
            Em      D               G
And let your soul be found,
```
