Lies In The Dark
Tove Lo
F#m
Over, over, and again Over (aah) and again
Over, over, and again Over (aah)
F#m
People talk, but people don t know
        F#m
                                                в
                                                      D
You can t make plans, just live as I go
People talk, they don t understand
                                             D
Love and pain go hand in hand
F#m
Ooh, say what they want, I m still thinking it s worth it
                                                                D
Ooh, little bit drunk, tell my heart you won t hurt it
                                    C#
 I love your lies in the dark
                                                                         Е
Love tearing up a broken heart Over, over, and again
 I love you, now take me home
Love every way you turn me on Over, over, and again
D
                             F#m
Over, over, and again Over (aah) and again
F#m
I can t fake I m in it for you
                                        В
                                             D
Good people do bad things too
Say you changed, don t know if I would (nah)
                                                 D
Wanna be yours for real if I could
