Dm F Dm
You can t hold me
Dm C Dm
I m too slippery

Dm F Dm
I do no sleepin
Dm C Dm
I get lonely

Dm F G
you can touch me
G F Dm
if you want to

Dm F Dm
I got poison
Dm C Dm
I just might bite you

Lie in circles
on the sunlight
shine like diamonds
on a dark night
ain t no mercy
in my smilin only fangs and
sweet beguiling

Future, he don t
try to find me
skin I been through dies behind me
solid hollow
wrapped in hatred
not a drop of venom wasted

You can slip in
try to find me
hold your breath and flat deny me
it makes no difference

to my thinkin
I ll be here when you start sinkin

I found it convenient to play with a capo in the 5th fret so I actually play Am C Am Am G Am and so on. In the beginning of a line I strum the empty strings and then hammer on the three fingers for the Am. The Fs and Cs are quickly sqeezed in between the other chords. It s hard to say how really to play it, it has to be felt (that s what I tell my band members on every occasion..). It should by avoided to play the high strings, at least not too often or too loud, especially at the Cs and Fs (This also makes it easier for the left hand). In between the verses I play a line of bass
notes:
D F B(hammer on->)C E D (maybe ...F D).

I also would like to add the bass line introducing Fare thee well Miss Carousel . Probably invented by the bass player but I like it very much.
B E / (E) F# G# / G# A G# F# / F# G# E -> E-chord.
Maybe the last bar is just f# f# f#.
And never ask me for a correct notation of the rhythm... RF
