I wanna clap my hands together

Eb

I got two legs

I wanna dance to heaven door

G#

I got one heart

C#

G#

I m gonna fill it up with Jesus

Eb

G#

and I ain t gonna think about trouble anymore

G#

C#

Well now this old world sometimes it does get lonesome

G#

Eb

and its many a grown man has hung his head and cried

G#

C#

down in your soul there s one that won t desert you

G#

Eb

G#

ain t it fine to have the Savior by your side

now the Lord resides inside a house of golden and faith is the door and love is the key and warm is the light pouring from his mighty windows and that light, my friend, it shines on you and me

When the wind blows on that faithful morning and I close my eyes, Lord, and fly my body home

I don t want my friends to cry no tears about me

I ll be batheing in the glory of the throne
