This is my first real attempt at tablature, but this is such a cool song & everyone to play it so I had to attempt it. I ve learnt this from the album version, only checking the youtube video to sure i was in the right place now & again. In the video of him playing this live, its a bit different here & there, but overall its the same. There are 1 or 2 small bits that i i play differently, like using different fingers for a particular note for example, i find my way easier and 99% of this is accurate. Another important thing to point out that the tab isnt exactly spaced as it should be played, they re just spaced so that its you should know how the song supposed to sound and shouldn t need me to space everything right musically. Also this song has LOTS of hammer-ons & pull-offs, and no way in hell i was going to write out all the h s & p s in the tab. Again, if you re on learning this, you should know how its meant to sound & therefore you shouldn t need to write them.
