Theres fire on the highway, and its dark intown
A D

Just like those songs i knew
G A

Theres a home in the valley, theres a home for me
D

Somewhere cross the great divide
G

All your words give me time to run, but theres nowhere to hide...

Well youre a sweet lovin woman in a dirty town
That emptyed out my soul
Its a tear droppin memory of a holy man
Whose got nowhere to go

Theres a home in the valley, theres a home for me
Somewhere cross the great divide
Lamplit cornors for everyone, but theres nowhere to hide.

I guess I ll just walk on forever never settle down cause theres no time for me
All your words of redemption just slow me down
In my attempt to see

Theres a home in the valley, theres a home for me
Somewhere cross the great divide
Its a flat lonely desert of air and clouds, but theres nowhere to hide... no theres nowhere to hide.
