

Lemonade

Tsunami Bomb

Tsunami Bomb

Lemonade

Awesome punk rock song!!!

This song is incredibly easy...

It is all FOUR chords for the whole song (see below).

Strum and palm mute all chords on the verses, strum naturally on the chorus and let your broken heart sing the rest!!

G Bm Em D

Looking at you now, remember how you gave me shit,
And I made lemonade out of it,
Pass me the sugar and things still won't be right!
Look what you've built, now are you proud of your deceitful quilt?
Well I won't cover myself in it, the warmth has just been choking me!

(CHORUS)

Thanks! Thanks for nothing!
I've taken all you got and started walking,
Not broken, still standing,
Been ripped apart, but now I'm demanding,
No more shit, this is it..
I am living for myself and no one else,
So long, been swell, see you in hell!

What would you say? Can't hear you buried in the lies that you've laid.
I'm breaking myself away from that chain, too bad you'll never understand why!
I'm walking away, and if you're lucky then someday I may..
Possibly forgive you for all of it..
But not today, BUT NOT TODAY!

(CHORUS)

Thanks! Thanks for nothing!
I've taken all you got and started walking,
Not broken, still standing,
Been ripped apart, but now I'm demanding,
No more shit, this is it..
I am living for myself and no one else,
So long, been swell, see you in hell!

(CHORUS AGAIN)

Thanks! Thanks for nothing!
I've taken all you got and started walking,
Not broken, still standing,
Been ripped apart, but now I'm demanding,

No more shit, this is it..
I am living for myself and no one else,
So long, been swell, see you in hell!
