

Kickin My Heels
Tyler Hilton

C#m                    A       E
Why you keep me around
C#m                    A               E
You can have any guy in this town
                 C#m               G#               A                       E
Im not the best you hope for just the best you found
                 F#7                               G#7
Yeah theres no way to explain it, but either way Ill take it

C#m                    A       E
Through the haze of the whisky light
C#m                    A               E
And the maze of the angels dressed in cocaine white
                 C#m               G#               A                       E
Im not trying to make a change but love I know what I like
                 F#7                               G#7
First you play along even though its wrong then it starts feeling right

                 E    G#    C#m               A
The more I drink the less I feel sorrow
                 E    G#    C#m               A
The more I make the less that I borrow
                 E    G#    C#m               A
The more I love you the less that I feel
                 E                       G#                       C#m                       A                       G#
Alone stoned kicking my heels alone stoned kicking my heels alone

C#m                    A               E
Every person or place that Ive been
C#m                    A               E
I keep seeing the same thing all over again
                 C#m               G#               A                       E
See even god needs the devil and Im one hell of a friend
                 F#7                               G#7
If it makes you feel much better at least were going down together

                 E    G#    C#m               A
The more I drink the less I feel sorrow
                 E    G#    C#m               A
The more I make the less that I borrow
                 E    G#    C#m               A
The more I love you the less that I feel
                 E                       G#                       C#m                       A                       G#
Alone stoned kicking my heels alone stoned kicking my heels alone

C#m A E
Yeah yeah heh!

C#m A E
Yeah yeah heh!

C#m G# A E F#7 G#7
Yeah yeah yeah heh!
