

The Little Things That Give You Away

U2

Bm

The night gave you song

A

A light had been turned on

G

You walked out in the world

Em

Like you belong there

Bm

As easy as a breeze

A

Each heart was yours to please

G

Is it only me who sees

Em

There s something wrong there

Bm

A

Oh, I m not a ghost there

G

I can.... see you

Em

You need to see me

D

A

It s the little things that give you away

G

The words you cannot say

Em

Your big mouth in the way

A

It s the little things that tease and betray

G

As the hunted I become the prey

It s the little things

Em

D

The little things that give you away

Bm

I saw you on the stairs

A

You didn t notice I was there

G

That s cause you were talking at me

Em

Not to me

Bm

You were high above the storm

A

A hurricane being born

G

What was freedom

Em

It might cost you, your liberty

D

A

It s the little things that give you away

G

The words you cannot say

Em

Your big mouth in the way

A

It s the little things that tease and betray

G

As the hunted I become the prey

It s the little things

Em

A

The little things that give you away

D

Sometimes

A

I can t believe my existence

Em7

See myself on a distance

G

I can t get back inside

D

Sometimes

A

The air is so anxious

Em7

All my tasks are so thankless

G

And all of my innocence has died

D

Sometimes

A

I wake at four in the morning

Em7

Where all the doubt is swarming

G

And it covers me in fear

D A
Sometimes, sometimes, sometimes

Em7 G
Sometimes, sometimes, sometimes

D
Sometimes

A
Full of anger and grieving

Em7
So far away from believing

G
That any song will reappear

D
Sometimes

A
The end is not dawning

Em7
It s not coming

G
The end is here

D A
Sometimes, sometimes, sometimes

Em7 G
Sometimes, sometimes

D
Sometimes

A
I m full of anger and grieving

Em7
So far away from believing

G
That any song will reappear

D
Sometimes

A
The end isn t coming

Em7
It s not coming
