Maggie Coulter By Uisce Beatha

Cappo is on first fret inorder to make it sound like the album (The Mystic of the Baja)

Intro: G#m Ebm G#m Ebm G#m Ebm G#m Ebm B C#m G#m Ebm G#m Ebm G#m Ebm G#m

G#m Ebm
I come to town lookin for my love
G#m Ebm
she s the sweet one Maggie Coulter she left the field of her father s farm with a kit bag on her shoulder B C#m
we were going to wed in a nearby town G#m when November winds came colder she ran and cried she thought I d died G#m Ebm G#m cause that s what her father told her she s sure to be wearing a wedding gown was her mother s mums before her you d only have to see her once and you d know why I adored her she s got strands of hair like the angel s fair and lips like the reddest roses but I ll tell you now that I ll cut down any man who dares proposses

CHORUS

so I ve got to run while I ve got the sun before the ship rolls with the tide and we ll sail away at the break of day never again will she leave my side (REPEAT INTRO) when she heard the news of my demise she was overcome with sorrow she donned her gown and she knew if she ran she could catch that ship tommorrow and when the boat went out to sea she could throw herself in the water for she couldn t swim she knew she d be dead by the time that the fishermen caught her

well I reached the shore but the ship had sailed and with it went my true love I swam for miles in the water s wild but I couldn t catch my true love and I heard a voice like a swallow s song as the moon rose up above me so I let the tide take me down inside to the one who ll always love me
