

Your Turn To Remember
Uriah Heep

(intro) F#m D F#m D E A Bm D E

A E D
I was always the one who did the thinking

A E D
it was me, I m sorry I who made the plans

A E D
There was never a thought we might do somethin be tween us

F#M D
it s so clear I think I m beginning to understand

F#M D
I was the one who had to lay it out and pay it out

F#M D E
I would work all night even though I wanted to play out and stay out

A Bm D E A
Now it s your turn to re member and it s your turn to try to understand

But you never would, would you?

A E D
When the time came.. for stayin together,

A E D
you refused to even talk about forever

A E D
It was easy telling me you love me

F#M D
and I was a little late in finding out the truth

F#M D
The rule of love was there you had to bend it

F#M D E
now the damage is done it s impossible to mend it I can t mend it

A Bm D E A A7
Now it s your turn..... to re member, it s your turn to feel a little pain

D Dm A F#M
I feel a little better talkin about her yet her mem ory s not good for me

D Dm
The skies are not so grey now I ve found a new tune to play now...

Bm E
it s a better song it ll be followin on

A E D
Yet when the time came.... for stayin together,

A E D
you refused to even talk about forever

A E D
It was easy telling me you love me

F#M D
and I was a little late in finding out the truth

F#M D
The rule of love was there you had to bend it

F#M D E
Now the damage is done it s impossible to mend it I can t mend it

Come on babe

A Bm D E A A7
Now it s your turn to re member, it s your turn to feel a little pain

B G#m C#m E F# B
It s your turn to re member, your turn to feel a little pain
