Lie I Believe - The V-roys
 Words and music by the V-roys
 >From the album Just Add Ice on E-squared records.
 (This is Steve Earle s label, catalog # 1050-2)

This album was released in the fall of 96 and is an excellent roots-rock type record, though one tune (Cry) sounds a bit like early Police and others are reminiscent of, maybe, Cracker and even Elvis Costello w/ the Attractions. However it gets binned, this is great American rock and roll laced with country, very well done, with loads of lyrical cleverness and passion but it probably won t be played on American radio since it doesn t fit snugly into a particular genre. Let s just call it V-roys music, and f@!* the radio--buy the album!

E
 Well I dial your number maybe third times a charm
A
 And you make a pillow in the crook of his arm
C#m E
 When you put on your story I will sigh with relief
A B E
 Whatever you say dear its a lie I believe

E
 Our car windows are steamy like the blue in your eyes
A
 And I stare at the moonlight shining down on your thighs
C#m E
 Why is love that is so pure got to be so na?ve?

I ll find that again dear its a lie I believe

But if you stand naked the mirror won t lie

But it has to be filtered through the wish of an eye

And all that I needed was your reflection of me

You said I was someone its a lie I believe

Instrumental break:

The first bar is a barre chord E minus bass notes, then slide down to Eb and then D (I m not sure here but it sounds okay) before moving up to A for the second bar: play along and its easy to mimic.

E | A | C#m | B | E
E | A | C#m | A | B | E

Soon the valley will ripen not long after the snow
New loves will find me when they re old they will go

But some love lasts forever that s why I grieve

Time heals all wounds is a lie I believe

But if you stand naked the mirror won t lie

But it has to be filtered through the wish of an eye

And all that I needed was your reflection of me

You said I was someone its a lie I believe

You said I was someone its a lie I believe

You said I was someone its a lie I believe

Big rousing finish:

E/A/B/E
