Introdução: D9 D9/C D9/B A9

D9

The 1st time I saw you

D9/C

I did try hard to burn my eyes

D9/B

Life was but a sad dream

I was but a sad breath

A9

But you were something like sand

When sunlight hits the sea

D9

The 2nd time I saw you

D9/C

I was about to take the road

D9/B

I asked would you wait for me

You said life ain t a highway

A9

Better if we d been born

As siamese songbirds

D9

The 3rd time I saw you

D9/C

We went to the zoo

D9/B

All steady hot beers, sorrowful monkeys

A9

Big eyes laughing

With I had not held hands

D9

The 4th time I saw you

D9/C

It was like I was gonna die

D9/B

I was waiting outside

You just had a new guy

A9

Asked me why, I, I

D9

Son, son, son

D*

won t you come along?
D9/C
We have no time for another
D9
song, song, song
D*

oooo

Won t you sing along?
D9/C
We have no sea, child

(Segue a sequencia: D9, D9/C, D9/B, A9)

The 5th time I saw you
He was traveling abroad
And your eyes, they were not here
You just made new friends
While I tried to stop with cigarettes

The 6th time I saw you
I was properly insane
For the whisky I had drunk
The drugs I d taken
Gimme just one chance you will realise

The 7th time I saw you
You were married again
If I had just once kissed you
Things wouldn t be the same
Surely the sky d be different

The 8th time I saw you
I was strummin the guitar
& your ear were just for him
My ears were a-bleeding
The waiter was blind
Please someone blind my eyes

The last time I saw you
It was about six a.m.
You approached me in a strange car
Finally kissed me
Then did wave goodbye
Before you disappear

Sometimes I ache, babe
Or I ain t hard enough to stand
But the days they just drown me
Coming back from work
Hving sour breakfast
Seasick from your chest.
