Probably not entirely accurate... but oh well. Good first draft. ;o Capo III

A B

E                      A                      C#                      A
Miles and depressing miles of tombstones and flower shops

E                      A                      C#                      B
And I m never expected to take this lonely road to you

A Now I m saying goodbye the right way, like flowers on a grave
B We set them on fire to put air in your tires
E
A Now you re with your best friends who came and went
B Em A
A Boy you re in heaven
B E

E B A B

At your old house, everything s still in place
It s almost like you re there
And somehow you d walk in if just for a second

So now we re saying goodbye the right way like flowers on a grave
We set them on fire to put air in your tires
Now you re with your best friends who came and went
Boy, you re in heaven

Saying goodbye the right way like flowers on a grave
We set them on fire to put air in your tires
Now you re with your best friends who came and went
Boy, you re in heaven
Boy, you re in heaven
Boy, you re in heaven
