(Same as the first verse)

I am free from your hatred
I ve parted from the part that I participated in so I m free

Every day in every way

I m getting better and better and better and better and better and better because there s no fear here why I can t tell you now cause I m runnin through the woods and I just jumped a little bit higher cause I m free and that s the way he created me to be

I have turned from your hatred I turned on the light and there was nothing there that waited to get me
