Verse 1:

D G
A woman on a plane sitting next to me says it's a terrible thing to get old
D A
I asked her why, she said because you die and one piece at a time you unfold
D G
I said I feel it now at twenty-five, yeah I've been dying since the day I was born
D
But there's still one thing worse than that
G A
it's dying without a warning
G A
It's dying without being warned

Chorus:

Bm A G
So if the cabin pressure drops and we start falling from the sky
D A (A) A#
We'll both pray to God in the last seconds of our lives
Bm A G
But if we don't die today then may this memory remain
D A G
That every second lived is worth each second of the pain

Verse 2:

D G
Oh flight attendant could you tell me the story of how you gave up trying to control your fate and rescue yourself
D
So calm and patient you greet death every day with a smile
G A G
If today he takes you would you say that your life was worthwhile, and just
A G A smile?

Chorus:

Bm A G
So if the cabin pressure drops and we start falling from the sky

D A (A) A#
 We ll both pray to God in the last seconds of our lives
Bm A G
 But if we don t die today then may this memory remain
D A G
 That every second lived is worth each second of the pain

 Cause every second counts
