Bm A
Honestly, can I tell you where I m at?

Bm A
Honestly, can I pull the curtain back?

Bm A G
Will you run if you see how weak I am

D G Bm
G
If you don t see the real me you won t see what mercy s done

D G Bm
G
If you don t see my weakness you won t see what love has won

Bm A G
D
If you don t see the distance from the darkness to the sun

G A Bm
D
If you don t see the distance from the darkness to the sun
You won t see, honestly

Honestly, I m growing sick and tired
Honestly, it hurts too much to hide
Brokenness that s killing us inside

If you don t see the real me you won t see what mercy s done
If you don t see my weakness you won t see what love has won
If you don t see the distance from the darkness to the sun
You won t see

G D Bm A
Let the light escape from these holes inside my soul

G D Bm A
When I start to break then grace begins to flow

G D Bm A
G A
Let the light escape from this wounded place inside my soul

Bm A
Honestly, honestly

If you don t see the real me you won t see what grace has done
If you don t see my weakness you won t see what love has won
If you don t see the distance from the darkness to the sun
You won t see
