

To My Bones
Wallis Bird

Hadn't found a tab for this song yet, so I figured this out. I think it's pretty close, and not very difficult.

E

We're kissing the lips of strangers
We're hugging whoever next we meet

E B A B E

Oh life I love you to my bones

E

When everything's short for listeners

Take 'em home and cook them dinners and sing

E B A B E

Oh life I love you to my bones

dominoes and medicine

It's you are and who you win

take a seat and let it grow

B E B A E

the world will love you

elephants of memory

an alphabet of chemistry

B

all of these things have made me

E B C#m B

Roscoe and Beenie, laughter and no TV

A E

I've got punch lines and fisty cuffs

F#m A B

and tons and tons of love

E B

I've got firesides and dutch gold

C#m B

There's no such thing as too old

A E

and my fortune is my home

F#m A B E

my home and all I know!

We had the

whole group doing limbo

everybody was tearing up the floor

E B A B E

Oh life I love you to my bones

Man, everything is just so simple

When you re laughing until your face is sore

E B A B E

dominoes and medicine

It s who you are and who you win

take a seat and let it grow

B E B A E

the world will love you

elephants of memory

B

all of these things have made me

E B C#m B

Roscoe and Beenie, laughter and no TV

A E

I ve got punch lines and fisty cuffs

F#m A B

and tons and tons of love

E B

C#m B

There s no such thing as too old

and my fortune is my home

F#m A B E

my home and all I know!

... And then just have fun with playing the chords till you think you re done playing the song. :)
