In the city, she wakes, before the break of day,
Cold water on her face, so lonely
Between the glass and knife, she d like to start a fire,
She d burn the city down, she d burn it all for love

Chorus:

Can you see the people, staring at the steeples
Wondering why they re so lonely, so lonely?
Can you hear their voices, joining in a chorus,
Wondering why it s so lovely, so lovely?
