Crave, desolate, you dive in, we follow along.

I contrive you with whiskey and Sam Cooke songs and we lay on our backs, soaking wet below a static tv set.

Conversation flows, counting shooting stars and catfish,

Bbm              G#

but I ll never make a wish.

Same for Verse 2 until Outro

C#                      F#                      G#                      F#

We stick to our slow motion memory.

It s 1 in the morning and 90 degrees

and though now it is hovering darkly over me,

it ll look just like heaven when I get up and leave.

Bbm              G#

You re a ghost and I can t breathe.
