Waxahatchee

This song is pretty easy to play and nice for beginners.
Very simple and catchy. No fancy extras.
Just play these chords while listening to the song. You ll get the rhythm figured out while you strum along.

For the verse: E B F#m A
For the Chorus: E B A

Here are the lyrics:

Verse:
Indepedent alabaster,
The radio can t hear the words.
You grow as big as the ocean.
Soon they will and destroy.

Chorus:
But you can run,
You can hide,
You re a giant.
They depend on the damned
That you call yours.
If I muster the strength to reflect you,
I won t feel any better at all.

Verse:
Some cosmetic illusion,
You ll rest your callow bones.
Blame my hardworking father,
For harm you cannot atone.

Chorus:
But you can argue the truth,
You re a seer.
You will rest on your morals in store.
If I muster the strength to reflect you,
I won t feel any better at all.
