C

The screen door to the farmer s porch
To the back porch, to the backlands

Am

It s never left closed

C

A new air pushed a full wind
That brought worlds on through

Am

That only he could know

C

As the last of November passed
With his new life, with his new wife

Am

She said she was feeling a little cold

C

The ghost of a clown just danced in and
Did a few tricks and danced out again

Am

Warming a farmer s soul

C

Summer was all there was
We were working, breathing heat

Am

Terror rising out of control

C

Through that door came a breeze
Wrapped on through our heads and around our spines

Am

Cooling off the burning floor

D

C

The morning s breaking woke us long enough

G

We were sure we could see

Am

The whole of some older birds

G

Am

Riding to the ground on the falling leaves

G

Am

Riding to the ground on some falling leaves

Am

One last time

One last time

C/G

To feed
