```
C         E5          D5        Am    G
   What hold this has on you, Heavy shoulder
C         E5         D5          Am      G
   Your feet ti-ed to the floor,
C         E5        D5          Am   Bb5
   Your former self would     Hate these fixtures
C     E5          D5        Am        G
   Of metal wi-re and wood
C     E5         D5          Am    G
   As you lay down in       Stranger s linen
C        E5        D5          Am        G
   The bluish scars you hide
C     E5   D5          Am   Bb5
    Remi-nisce of      sweet addiction
C     E5          D5          Am        G
    Strings youâ€™ve never tied

          F           C           G
Would you bend these bars that hold
    Am                 F         C        G
To keep you from the peace and stillness come
      F         C       G       Am
And lay your head beside a better burden
F           C         G
   Until the heal has come

C      E5  D5(C)     Am        G
C      E5  D5(C)     Am        Bb5

C        E5      D5        Am      G
   As you depart from      short duration
C         E5         D5          Am      G
   And cut the bracelet off
C        E5           D5 (C)    Am      Bb5
   The withered arm and         port of entry
C        E5        D5          Am        G
   The living for the numb

          F           C           G
I would bend these bars that hold
    Am                 F         C        G
To keep you from the peace and stillness come
      F         C       G       Am
And lay your head beside a better burden
F           C         G
   Until the heal has come

F     Am      G       G
```

        F       Am      G       G
You will see sunrise again
        F       Am      G       G
You will see sunrise again
        F       Am      G       G
You will see sunrise again
        F       Am      G       G
You will see sunrise again

F    Am    G    G    G    G
```
