[Verse 1]
I swear i ll run away from every home I ever have
So i ll build a new house in every town i pass.
Maybe then I won t always feel lost and trapped.

When I was growing up, i was the smartest kid i knew.
Maybe that was just because I didnt know that many kids.
All I know is now I feel the opposite.

Like if you dont want to work, then that becomes your job.
Theres a lot of overtime, theres not many days off.
I hope you know that I m not trying to complain.
It just gets hard to explain to people that I know, or kids who come to shows that I just dont want to talk about the office today.

for a vein or two that maybe they forgot.
[Verse 2]
               C
And the cops say its a crime for people like me and those friends of mine to want to die like my neighbor in St. Pete Am
she s been on house arrest down here
if she tries to leave her yard they ll lock her in a cage for years.
                                 Bb
        cause sometimes she wants to die.
С
                                 Bb
        and she shoots dope when she thinks she could die С Вb
        and the law they caught her one too many times
                                 Вb
        shootin dope when she felt like she could die.

        We re building a new world, all of my friends and me its not an exact science yet, but we have the technology.
        now all we need is an economy where everybody
finally will get enough to eat, {\tt Bb}
even the suburbs know powers getting too crooked to stand Вb

on its own feet for much longer than it has.
So i dont want to kill a cop, what i want is neighborhoods where they don t have to get called when the shit goes down cause our friends, they are enough, and our neighbors have enough.
        F
finally we re enough.
