Zerbin- New Earth

Fantastic band out of Edmonton, this is one of their best-known songs. The tab here is how they play it live at their sonic session; They tend to switch up using the bar chords and non-bar chords in the last verse bit, so play with what you like.

Also, by verse and chorus ... it s a loose definition. Just go with it :).

The bass intro can also (almost) be played on the guitar like this:

e-----|
B-----|
G-----|
D-----|
A-----|
E---5-5---5-5-5---5-4-4---4-4-4---4-2-2---2-2-2---2-0-0---0-0-0---0|

the only problem being that there s another drop down.....^ there, by two frets. There are no more frets on a normal guitar left. You could play it up higher, but it loses the bass sound... and this is workable.

But on to the song!

Lead Guitar:

Verse:

E (0-9-9-9-7-0)
D (0-7-7-7-5-0)

Chorus:

A (0-2-2-2-0-0)
E (0-0-1-2-2-0)
F# (2-2-3-4-4-2)
D (2-3-2-0-0-0)

[bass intro]

Quiet now, and hear the tremor of a hope that s growing deep inside

[bass intro]

Hand to mouth, our secret whispers of a dream to roll our tired skies

With a full heart [E] and opening eyes [D]

I see the headlights [E] turn into sunrise [D]

[E] [D]
We ll build on real love and heal the deep hurt

[E] [D]
And we will step up to greet the brand new earth

[A] [E]
Whoa Ohhhhhh ohh

[F#] [D]
Whoa Ohhh ohh

[A] [E]
Whoa Ohhhhhh ohh

[F#] [D]
Whoa-ohh-ohhh

[A][E][F#][D]
Hey hey! [whistling]

[A][E][F#][D]
Hey hey! [whistling]

[drum solo]
Step in time, move to the rhythm of a heart that beats for real life

[bass solo]
Mountain dance under the footsteps of a world that broke the darkest night

[E] [D]
Here with a full heart and opening eyes

[E] [D]
I see the headlights turn into sunrise

[E] [D]
We ll build on real love and heal the deep hurt

[E] [D]
And we will step up to greet the brand new earth

[A] [E]
Whoa Ohhhhhh ohh

[F#] [D]

Whoa Ohhh ohh

[A] [E]
Whoa Ohhhhhh ohh

[F#] [D]
Whoa-ohh-ohhh
